

11 Weekly NYC Art Picks, From Zimoun's Sound Sculptures to a John Giorno Poetry Reading

Taylor Mead at Churner and Churner, 205 10th Ave., through 2/18

Artist, poet, octogenarian, and "magister ludi of the American underground" Taylor Mead shows no signs of slowing down. The one-time Factory fixture and star of the eponymous "Taylor Mead's Ass" will be showing drawings from his ongoing "Fairy Tale Poem," an absurdist epic whose cast of characters includes Warhol, Ellen Barkin, and Donald Trump. On view in the back are a resilient group of Mead's 1980s Neo-expressionist paintings, which — according to the press release — have "survived cockroach infestation, subsequent fumigation, and a collapsed ceiling" in Mead's derelict Lower East Side apartment. [See listing]

Taylor Mead

January 12, 2012 to February 18, 2012

Churner and Churner Gallery

205 10th Avenue
New York, NY
United States

<http://churnerandchurner.com/exhibitions/taylor-mead/>

Hours

January 12, 2012 12:00am
12:00am